PAINTER MAKES A STAND

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR
STATES POSITION.

SAYS HE MUST BE CERTAIN OF ELECTION

Otherwise He Will Not Accept the Position—Declaration Seems to Have Settled the Middle
as to the Office.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 30.—William R. Painter has practically withdrawn from the lieutenant governorship contest. In a speech before the democratic caucus last night, and in a similar statement made this morning, the candidate stated that under no circumstances could he be induced to accept the office as long as any question whatever existed concerning the fairness of his election.

"From the first," he said, "I have stated over and over again that I would accept the office under one condition only, and that is that the ballots show my election beyond the slightest question of doubt."

Inasmuch as the committee is absolutely at sea over the matter, this declaration amounts to a virtual withdrawal. Whether Painter withdraws or not, his statement can be construed as nothing else than the embodiment of party patriotism and a desire for fair play.

It is doubtful if his friends will permit him to officially withdraw from the race. While it is universally conceded here today that Gmelich will be the successful candidate, it is certain that many democrats will vote to seat Painter at every step. The leaders of the party, however, are now convinced that the only politic thing to do is to seat Gmelich without further delay. As the assembly is now adjourned until Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, nothing can be done until then, but there is no ground for reasonable doubt that the committee's report will contemplate anything else than the seating of Gmelich as lieutenant governor.

The caucus last night was of a rather stormy character. Several democrats seemed determined yet to "put Painter over the plate," by main force, but the better counsel prevailed in the end and influenced by Painter's generous statement the idea seems almost abandoned today.

There is no little feeling against the republicans of the committee. Many democrats are wholly convinced that the fair play agreement and solemn pledge of the republicans in the matter of which votes should and which should not be counted has been broken. Running alongside this belief is the conviction that the republicans have taken advantage of the delicate position of Mr. Painter and the democratic party by threatening to make political capital out of the action should Mr. Painter be seated under any circumstances. The hopeless tangle into which the committee has been enmeshed is still looked upon by many as wholly an unnecessary situation. Those who hold this belief are convinced that the sensible solution of the whole difficulty would have been to have seated Painter at the very outset on the face of the amended returns. What protest, they argue, would have arisen at that time could certainly not have amounted to as much as the general statewide displeasure existing now at the immensely costly period of inactivity that has ensued.

That the republicans of the bipartisan committee seized upon the peculiarities of the situation to further the interests of their candidate there can be no gainsaying. In his speech before the democratic caucus last night Mr. Painter pointed out the fact too clearly for dispute. "On the original returns," he said, "I was elected by 73 votes; on the amended returns I was elected by 27 votes; on the recount I would have been elected by 197 votes had the republicans not violated their solemn agreement and the practice under which the recount was had I say to you that there may be some doubt as to which of us received the greater number of votes, and while I have no power to direct you as to what you shall do as representing your party and mine in this conference I say to you that I do not want the office with any possible doubt of the complete justice of my having it."

Break at Water Plant.

A break in the engine at the plant of the City Water Co., at 2 o'clock

Saturday morning, caused a shut-down of a couple of hours.

This caused the mains of the Economy Steam Heating Co. to become cold, and in consequence it was late in the forenoon before some of the patrons of the latter company found their respective places of business comfortable from the heat standpoint.

Head of Salt Trust Dead.

Hearst News Service.

Augusta, Ga., Jan. 30.—W. L. Fuller, head of the Salt trust, is dead here, after a brief illness.

The dead man was a resident of Scranton, Pa., and came here for his health. He was prominent in the affairs of many railroads.

A BIG SUM IS MISSING

INSURANCE EXAMINER OF NEW YORK DISCOVERS BIG HOLE
IN COMPANY'S ASSETS.

WASHINGTON LIFE IS THE CONCERN

No One Knows How Much is Gone
But It is Said It May Amount to Gigantic Total of $750,000.

Hearst News Service.

New York, Jan. 30.—That $500,000 and possibly $750,000 cash of the assets of the Washington Life Insurance company are missing was discovered today by Insurance Examiner Hadley, who, with a corps of expert accountants, is going over the books of the company.

This money is the cash portion of $16,000,000 in assets which were shipped over night to the Pittsburg Life and Trust company, in Pittsburg, and brought back to this city on the demand of Attorney General O'Malley.

The missing cash, it was reported tonight, might total $750,000.

ALMOST WIPED OFF THE MAP

Fire Caused a Loss of $200,000 at Nowata, Oklahoma.

Associated Press.

Coffeyville, Kas., Jan. 30.—The town of Nowata, across the line from here in Oklahoma, was almost wiped off the map today by a fire that destroyed thirteen business houses, two banks and the county court house, which latter held all the records of that section of Oklahoma.

The loss is estimated at $200,000.

CAR JUMPED THE RAILS

And Carried 37 Passengers Down a Steep Embankment.

Associated Press.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 30.—A street car with thirty-seven passengers jumped from slippery rails on Clifton avenue and tumbled down a steep embankment.

More than a score of the passengers were injured, some seriously.

BOW—WOW, WOW, WOW!

CHINA'S CURIOUS EDICT

IT HAS BEEN RECEIVED BY THE
STATE DEPARTMENT AT WASHINGTON.

THE DOCUMENT IS SINGULARLY WORDED

New Emperor Tells How His Predecessor Worked and How He Died
—Is Successor Equal to the Emergency.

Washington, Jan. 30.—One of the first official acts of the new emperor of China, when he ascended the throne was to issue an imperial edict, telling his loyal subjects how the late emperor died.

A copy of this edict has been received at the state department. It is worded thus:

"Our late emperor ruled the empire for thirty and four years. He kept on his clothes after night and took his food after dark, earnestly devoting himself to the work of government."

"We hoped that his glory will be long enduring, and that he would live to complete the organization of government. But the sacred body was too frail. On the 21st day of the tenth moon of the thirty-fourth year of Kuank Hsu, he took the dragon ride to be a guest on his death."

"On the great occasion, the divine utensils are very heavy, the responsibility rests upon this feeble body; we think of our youth and scanty merit and fear we shall be unequal to the test."

GAVE SONS AN INTEREST

In the H. W. Meuschke Dry Goods
Co., of This City.

H. W. Meuschke, one of the best known and most successful dry goods merchants of the city, has given his two sons, Harry W. and Arthur J., an interest in the splendid business established at the northwest corner of Third and Ohio streets in 1883, and from and after this date the establishment will be known as the H. W. Meuschke Dry Goods Co.

There are no more popular young men in Sedalia than Harry and Arthur Meuschke. They have been brought up in the dry goods business, under the watchful eye of their father, and will prove valuable assistants to him in catering to the company's extensive trade in the years to come.

H. W. Meuschke and William H. Messerly opened the store at Third and Ohio streets in 1886, after having been four years at another location.

With the death of Mr. Messerly, Mr. Meuschke purchased the interest of his late partner, and has conducted the business with signal ability since, the store now being one of the largest and most successful in Central Missouri.

The Democrat-Sentinel congratulates the senior Mr. Meuschke on the step taken, and extends to the H. W. Meuschke Dry Goods Co. best wishes for the continued success the gentlemen will no doubt acquire and deserve.

DECLINED SPLENDID OFFER

W. H. Powell Refused Presidency of Kansas City Financial Institution.

W. H. Powell, cashier of the Citizens' National bank, returned Friday night from Kansas City, where he had been in consultation with the directors of one of the largest financial institutions of the west, located in that city, over the offer of the presidency of that institution, which had been made him.

The position carries with it a salary of $12,000 per annum and looms up large in the financial world. It is, in fact, one of the most desirable positions in the country, but in spite of the many inducements made and the insistent arguing of those in charge, Mr. Powell declined the offer, saying that he was good enough for him and the Citizens' as congenial a field of usefulness as he desired.

This, of course, will be good news for Sedalia, as the city could very ill afford to part with Mr. Powell as a citizen and business man.

It speaks very highly of his reputation, however, that these shrewd men of capital should have selected him for the position and should have insisted on his acceptance and is a compliment of which he should feel mighty proud. That he should decline and prefer to still remain and work in Sedalia is something of which the entire city should also be proud, for it takes lots of things to compensate one for refusing such a splendid opening. But, then, Sedalia has them, otherwise it would have lost one of its most valued and enterprising men of affairs.

Report Favorable to Territories.

Hearst News Service.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—The committee on territories today made a favorable report to the house on the bill for statehood for Arizona, and New Mexico.

ADMITS HE WAS A FRAUD

MAN WHO POSED AS A PRIEST AT TIPTON, MISSOURI, SOME THREE YEARS AGO.

HE HAS AT LAST GIVEN OUT STATEMENT

Frank Fritz, Alias Fisher, Lectured at Tipton, Who Villified the Catholic Church, Lands in Illinois Convent.

The Tipton Times of the 28th inst. printed the following self-explanatory communication from the Rev. F. Keuper, pastor of the Catholic church at Tipton:

"Editor Tipton Times. Dear Sir: Please publish the inclosed letter I received from Rev. F. Pieper, pastor of St. Patrick's church at Ruma, Ill. It needs no commentary.—F. Keuper."

Accompanying Fr. Keuper's letter was the following communication from the Rev. Pieper, a priest at Ruma, Ill.:

"Ruma, Ill., Jan. 23, 1909. Very Rev. F. Keuper, P. P., Tipton, Mo. Very Rev. Father: It will perhaps interest you to learn that a certain Frank Fritz alias Fisher, who lectured in your town about three years ago, villifying the Catholic church and posing as an ex-priest, etc., landed here at the convent the other day."

"Tired of the reckless life he has been leading, anxious to make his peace with God, he requested me to write to you that he was sorry for the scandal he had given in your town, that he never was a Catholic priest, or even a student, but that he actually was what you called him, 'a hobo,' a tramp, who was in the business for the money that was in it. I had the man sign a paper to this effect. Of course, I do not know that the man was sincere, but I have reason to think so, and I hope that he will do better in the future. With kind wishes, yours in Christ.—F. Pieper."

BOYS TAPPED THE TILL

Sentenced to the Reform School, but Paroled.

Willie Manes, aged 11; Garret Brady, aged 12, and George Pennington, aged 15, were arrested Friday by Officer Howard Wood, charged with tapping the money drawer of E. M.

Shields, a market house poultry dealer, and stealing in the aggregate $25.

The trio was arraigned before H. M. Gresham, sitting as ex-officio justice of the peace, during the afternoon and held to criminal court.

Saturday morning Judge Hoffman acted on the suggestion of the justice and sentenced each to five years in the state reform school at Boonville, but later paroled the three youths on their promise to reform.

Manes, Brady and Pennington have been doing chores at the market house, and during the present month have visited Mr. Shields' place of business. When the proprietor was not looking they tapped the money drawer, Brady stealing $15 and each of the other two taking $5.

BIG "BOB CAT" IS KILLED

THERE ARE STILL A FEW WILD
BEASTS AT LARGE OUT
IN KANSAS.

YOU CAN FIND ALMOST ANYTHING THERE

Dogs Got After the Animal and Ran
It Down, After Which "Joe"
Baker Dispatched It
With His Gun.

Junction City Kan., Jan. 30.—Yesterday on the old Tilk farm, southwest of town, Joe Baker killed one of the largest "bob cats" ever seen in this section.

The brute, which measured about four feet from tip to tip, was nearer the catamount species than anything else and probably strayed into this country from the sand hill section west of Abilene, where they are said to be numerous.

The dogs got after the animal and ran it down. In the fight which followed one dog was nearly torn to pieces.

Mr. Baker ran into the pack with his gun, when the animal turned on his with a snarl. It was promptly dispatched. Mr. Baker brought the cat to town, where it attracted much attention.

It weighed forty pounds and was purchased by Brownlee & Stephenson, who will have it mounted. It may be seen in their drug store window.

BURIAL OF KIRK BAILEY

Brother Who Caused Death Has Not Been Located.

The funeral of Kirk Bailey, who died from a stab wound inflicted by his younger brother, Victor, was held from the family residence, 619 West Fourth street, at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Rev. J. F. Caskey, pastor of the Fifth Street M. E. church, South, conducted the services and the remains were later taken to Dresden for interment.

Up to date not a word has been heard from Victor, the 13-year-old boy who did the stabbing, which resulted in Kirk's death. Although he left home last Sunday night, all efforts of his relatives and the authorities to locate him have proved of no avail, and the opinion is being ventured that some mishap has befallen him.

MR. JOLLY'S BIRTHDAY

It Was Celebrated at His Home Saturday Night.

Mrs. William Jolly very charmingly entertained a score of guests on the third floor of her residence, 720 West Fifth street, Saturday night, in honor of the birthday anniversary of her husband, but which particular birthday Mr. Jolly celebrated Saturday his modesty refrains from telling.

Social games and pleasant reminiscences furnished the amusement, and at a late hour a light luncheon was served, after which all guests departed for their homes, wishing the guest of honor the happiness of celebrating many more such occasions.

KILLED A WOMAN FOR $2

A ST. LOUIS MAN GETS THIRTY-
FIVE YEARS IN STATE PENITENTIARY.

STRANGE STORY IS TOLD BY DEFENDANT

Forced a Stocking Down Her Throat
to Keep Her From Screaming,
but Had Not the Last
Intention of Murder.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 30.—A jury in Judge Allen's court Friday found Thomas De Witt guilty of second degree murder and fixed his punishment at thirty-five years in the penitentiary. DeWitt killed Mrs. Adeline Muller in her home, 918 Lynch street, August 12, last.

He had been a boarder at Mrs. Muller's home, and on the day of the tragedy he went there to visit his former landlady. On the witness stand he testified that he had no intention of stopping, but Mrs. Muller called him across the street and asked him how he was getting along.

He told her that he needed money and asked her to lend him $2. When Mrs. Muller refused to let him have the money he forced his way into the house and fought with the woman.

They struggled through the front room and into the bedroom. There DeWitt threw Mrs. Muller into a chair and stuffed a stocking down her throat.

He testified that he wanted to keep her from screaming and that he did not mean to kill her.

After stifling the woman's cries he left the house, taking Mrs. Muller's purse from a table.

She was found dead several hours later.

MRS. VITI'S FATHER DEAD

The Funeral Services at Tipton This Forenoon.

Michael Kramer, one of the oldest residents of Monticau county, died of general debility at his home at Tipton at 7:15 o'clock Thursday evening.

Mr. Kramer would have been 89 years old had he lived until Feb. 15. He had lived at Tipton for the past forty years and was well known by nearly every resident of Monticau county, all of whom will extend sympathy to the bereaved wife and seven children who survive.

The Rev. Fr. Koeppe will conduct funeral services at St. Andrew's Catholic church at Tipton at 9 o'clock this morning, and burial will be made in the Tipton Catholic cemetery.

Mrs. J. H. Vitt, of this city, is a daughter of the deceased, and she and her husband left Saturday afternoon for Tipton to attend the funeral.

TWENTY-SIX HORSES BURNED

Coffeyville, Kas., Had a $75,000 Fire
Saturday.

Associated Press.

Coffeyville, Kas., Jan. 30.—Fire here today destroyed A. E. HoJoway's boarding stable, together with twenty-six fine horses, a veterinary hospital and three other buildings.

Several of the horses were valued at from $1,000 to $2,000. The total loss is estimated at $75,000.

A terrific wind spread the flames, endangering the business section for a time.

KANSAS IS WHISKERLESS.

What is the matter with Kansas?
The home of the whisker luxuriant
had better look well to its laurels.
Famed in folk lore as the fertile region where alfalfa and other gay forage flourishes abundantly on the chin, the state has always presented to the smooth-faced easterner a display that would win the medals for hirsute decorations.

But also and alas, what have we here? The last enumeration of the faces of the Kansas law makers in legislature assembled presents the following sad and awful truth:

Senate—Smooth face, 21; mustaches, 15; full beards, 3; bald, 7.
House—Smooth face, 45; mustaches, 69; chin whiskers, 1; full beard, 8; sideburns, 2; bald, 9.

Most of the whiskers are neat, well trimmed and closely cropped. Only one member has the flowing kind, a senator, and he is a democrat. The two house members who have "side wheelers" have them cut close. The long set of "chinnies" are trimmed down almost to Van Dyke shape.

Thus have the mighty fallen. Bob Burdette used to tell us not to strike a mustache when it was down, but he said nothing about a cropped beard of a true Kansan. Matters of state should rest while the Kansas legislators come back to their own.

Of all the pitiful cries that have come from the west, the most heart-rending is that whiskerless Kansas is whiskerless.

ROUND THE HORN.

We still hear the echoes of the great achievement of Rear Admiral Robley
D. Evans in conducting sixteen battleships from Hampton Roads to San Diego, but there will be no demonstrations anywhere over the fact that Captain Mertz after an uneventful voyage of 118 days from New York, has reached San Diego with three lightships and three lighthouse tenders—six small steamers that are not designed for ocean navigation, for the lightships are designed to be anchored off shore and the tenders are designed merely to coast along from one lighthouse to another. This little fleet has made a voyage of 13,000 miles. It has done all that the great battleship squadron did, with only a minute fraction of its power and resources. But the people of San Diego will not offer Captain Mertz the present of a house. He will not receive the thanks of congress. The world at large will not congratulate us on the effectiveness of our lighthouse service, and the courage and skill of Captain Mertz will stir no thunders of applause.

THE WORLD'S GREAT.

President Roosevelt rode ninety-eight miles to prove that the endurance tests prescribed for army and navy officers are not unduly severe.
It was an historic achievement!

Napoleon could not have ridden ninety-eight miles in a day. Neither could Wellington. Washington might possibly have been equal to it, as he was an expert horseman, but he would have had too much sense to undertake it. Moltke would have failed miserably. Stonewall Jackson perhaps might have done it but it is doubtful whether Grant or Lee or Sherman could have stood the test.

Every schoolboy knows the poem
about Sherman's ride to Winchester, which was only twenty miles away.

As for the great sea fighters, neither Paul Jones nor Perry nor Farragut nor Nelson could have ridden ninety-eight miles in one day on a horse to save a ship.

Mr. Roosevelt did it, however.
Buffalo Bill could do it. So could Ben Daniels. This proves conclusively, we think, adds the New York World, that Theodore Roosevelt, Buffalo Bill and Ben Daniels are the greatest generals and admirals in modern history.

The fact that the new president of the New York Central railroad says in the next fifteen years the railroads must spend billions, calls attention to what an immense difference it would make if everybody was content to stay in one place. It also emphasizes the fact, declares the Baltimore American, that persons who have passed their whole lives in one home or even in one town, or who have never been on a railroad journey in their lives, are written up in the daily papers as human curiosities.

A Washington item says that Senator Stone, of Missouri, and Congressman Wood, of New Jersey, were standing on Pennsylvania avenue engaged in conversation. While exchanging language a sheath gown girl went by. Stone turned to Wood, and Wood turned to Stone, and then both turned to rubber. It was, indeed, a turning point.

Those countries now adopting old age pensions may not know the trouble they are bringing on themselves, since the professor is about to show us all how to live to be young at 150.

A Milwaukee doctor has married his cook. But the scheme doesn't work. Just as soon as you marry them, they quit being cooks.

A Parisian journal asks the question: "Should actresses marry?" We should say the answer is: "Not so often as they do."

"Where is our country going to?"
shouts the Texas Star. A conspicuous part of it counts on going to Africa.

There is still a further outlet for the presidential strenuousness.
Roosevelt has never run a Marathon.

It is as old as civilization that the baby is the tyrant of the household.
China must be up against it hard.

BOUGHT SIXTEEN MULES

They Cost Mr. McClure An Average of $200 a Head.

W. W. McClure, of Hughesville, Mo.,
arrived in Versailles Wednesday morning with sixteen fine mules, which he bought of Lon Snider at Linn Creek, says the Versailles Leader.

He shipped them to Hughesville over the Missouri Pacific. The mules were four to five years old, measured sixteen hands and above, and cost Mr. McClure an average of $200 per head.

Mr. McClure also purchased 180
head of three-year-old feeders of John Pillman, who resides at Spring Creek, Phelps county, for which he paid four cents per pound, the cattle averaging 915 pounds. He is driving the cattle thorough to Hughesville.

DR. PRITCHETT INDICTED

He's Charged With Performing Operation on Brice.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 30.—On an indictment charging him with fourth-degree manslaughter, in connection with the death of his bride of a week, Dr.
Paul Pritchett was arrested yesterday in his drug store at 2947 Lawton avenue.

The indictment which was returned yesterday with the grand jury's final report, alleges that Dr. Pritchett performed a criminal operation.

Mrs. Pritchett died at the Laclede hotel on November 30. Dr. Pritchett was placed under arrest at the time,
but was not held by a coroner's jury.
He declined to make a statement yesterday when locked up in the Central district holdover.

Mrs. Pritchett was Miss Bertha
Holt, of Lebanon, Mo., and was a relative of former State Senator Frank Farris.

LOCKING UP THE CRIMINALS

Stirred By Carnival of Crime, St.
Louis Got Active.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 30.—Using dragnet methods, the police, stirred by the Jobusch murder and the wildest night of crime in the history of
St. Louis, are filling the station cells.

Six men, whom the police claim have committed a score of robberies in Carondelet, their operations covering a period of several months are held by the police of the First district. Twenty others are held as suspects. After their arrest, six men, under right questioning, confessed to many burglaries. They told full details of how they disposed of their booty.

Four men, including Jobusch, were held up during the night. A shot was fired at a second and a revolver snapped in the faces of others. Besides the "Wild West" dash of the highway-men in a buggy, a dozen burglaries,
including the robbery of a church,
and the operations of many petty larceny thieves, were reported.

Joseph Jobusch, 2234 Warren street, was the victim of men in a buggy. He was killed while resisting their attempts to rob him.

A FLAW IN A LIQUOR LAW

One Portion of It Held Unconstitutional By a Wichita Judge.

Wichita, Kas., Jan. 30.—An important decision has been rendered in the Sedgwick county district court by Judge T. C. Wilson regarding the state law which prohibits any person having intoxicating liquor within one-half mile of a polling place. Judge Wilson held that the law was unconstitutional.

The question came up in the case of W. S. Gossney, who was arrested election day for keeping liquor in his place of business.

It was held by his attorneys that the statute was an abridgement of article 15 of the Kansas constitution and also that it was in violation of the bill

sustained the contention.

AN 18-YEAR-OLD DEED FOUND

Found in a Hay Loft, Perfects Title to Valuable Property.

Columbia, Mo., Jan. 30.—A deed, 18 years old, was found today in a flour sack hid in a hay loft. The deed perfects the title to 200 acres of land near Columbia and will cause the dismissal of a suit of ejectment. In 1891 James Jefferson deeded his farm to his nephew, W. T. Berry. Thirty days later the land was transferred by deed from Berry to Jefferson. The first deed was recorded here.

Last summer Jefferson was found dead from heart trouble by the roadside. Berry then took possession of the farm. Owen Hopper, who works for Berry, found a sack of papers in the hay. These he turned over to the administrator of the Jefferson estate.
The first paper found was the deed from Berry to Jefferson. This establishes the title.

BLEW HIM OFF THE BRIDGE

Charles Bernard Was Going to Work
When He Met Death.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 30.—Charles
Bernard, a plasterer, of 623 South Fifth street, Kansas City, Kas., was going to work in Argentine early yesterday morning.

The wind was sweeping down the Kaw valley like a hurricane. Bernard was walking along the high approach to the old Southern wagon bridge when he was blown from his feet.

The wooden railing had been carried away in the night. Bernard was helpless. He was carried off the approach and fell sixty feet, striking on his head on a log lying on the sandbar within a few feet of the water. He was killed instantly.

Bernard was 48 years old. He left a family.

RECORD OF BLIZZARDS

ENGINEER FRANK JAMES FURNISHES IT TO DEMOCRAT-SENTINEL.

HE HAS BEEN KEEPING IT FOR 25 YEARS

The Data Shows That All of Our Real Bad Storms in Sedalia Began Either on Tuesdays or Fridays

Engineer Frank James, of the M. K. & T., who has kept a record of the weather in Sedalia for the past twenty-five years, furnishes the Democrat-Sentinel with the following data, which shows that all of the blizzards that have occurred in that time started either on Tuesday or Friday, so far as Sedalia is concerned. The Tuesday record follows:

Blizzards on Tuesday.
Tuesday, February 14th, 1886—Severe blizzards and change of 44 degrees in 12 hours; 10 below zero.

MORE WOE FOR MRS. HARGIS
Feudist's Widow, Fighting for Son, May Become Bankrupt.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 30.—The extravagance of Mrs. Lou Ellen Hargis, widow of Judge James Hargis, in the employment of counsel to defend her son, Beach Hargis, for the murder of his father, coupled with the failure of the jury to convict or acquit, which will result in another trial, perhaps equally as expensive, has resulted in the creditors of Jim Hargis filing suit against the widow, asking that the real estate holdings of the estate be sold to pay off the incumbrance.

The suit has been filed in the Breckitt circuit court at Jackson, and it will come up for trial even before the next trial of the youthful patricide at Irvine.

It is said that many of those having claims against the estate are lawyers who assisted Jim Hargis to get his freedom on the charges of complicity in the assassinations of Marcus A. Cockrell and Dr. Cox, and that they are not will that his murderer shall be defended with money accruing from the estate until his own defense has been paid. Claims against the estate total about $30,000.

TOBACCO FINE IS REVERSED
American Company Did Not Enter Into a Trust.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 30.—Following its construction of the Kentucky anti-trust law in the International Harvester case, decided a few days ago, the court of appeals yesterday reversed the $2,700 fine returned against the American Tobacco Company in the Henry county circuit court.

The lower court was directed to sustain the demurrer to the penal suit filed against the tobacco company in the ground that no allegation was made that the company entered into any trust or combination to increase or decrease the prices.

MANY CHICKENS KILLED

People Living on East Broadway Have a Grievance.

Residents of Broadway, east of Hancock avenue, are up in arms as the result of a wholesale slaughter of chickens owned by residents of that locality, the fowls having been decapitated, it is said, by a certain married woman living in that vicinity.

According to the complaint filed with the authorities, the woman in question catches every stray fowl that happens to be in or near her premises, and immediately wrings its neck. This done, she evinces her contentment by quietly returning to her house, awaiting the arrival of the next chicken.

Recently several families have had chickens killed as a result of the woman's peculiar mania, and now steps are to be taken to put a stop to the slaughter.

NAME CUT FROM THE STONE

Dishonored Pastor to Be Returned to Former Home.

St. Louis, Jan. 30.—When the Rev. James W. Richey, cloping Methodist minister, is taken from St. Louis to Carmel, Ind., to face three indictments, he will find his name erased from the cornerstone of the church he recently built there.

The church, a handsome structure of stone and concrete, bore Pastor Richey's name graven in the place of honor in the cornerstone. When the congregation learned that their former leader had abandoned his wife and infant, and had run away with the country girl who had lived in his home, members of the church hastened to the new edifice and contended for the right of wielding the chisel which should efface Richey's name from the record of stone. They left it a few minutes later with a gaping hole in the granite.

He was found at 5735 Delmar boulevard, St. Louis, last Monday night, and was arrested through letters written by him and Bertha Williamson to his wife and to her parents. He was working as a motorman.

A SENSATION AT CLINTON

NEGRO SEIZED WHITE GIRL BY SHOULDER IN A LAUNDRY DRY THERE.

WAS KNOCKED DOWN BY THE PROPRIETOR

Scoundrel Then Fled, and It Is Well That He Did, as Public Indignation Was Aroused to a High Pitch.

Early this morning, says Friday's Clinton Democrat, a young woman who works in the Troy laundry had occasion to step into the engine room, where a negro named Ellison, commonly called "Gravy," who has for several years run the engine, seized her by the shoulders.

She wrenched herself free, and, returning to the front room with tears in her eyes, was asked by Frank Carter, the proprietor, what was the matter. She informed him, and, seizing a monkey wrench, Carter ran to the engine room, ignored the negro's protests that he was "just a-funnin'," and knocked him down. Then Carter ran back for his revolver, but by the time he secured it the negro was fleeing for safety. Officers began searching for him, but without avail.

The notoriety is very unpleasant to the young woman, whose name is purposely withheld. She desired to say as little as possible, but such exaggerated reports are current the Democrat deems it best to give the facts.

Other young women employed in the laundry say that "Gravy" has attempted similar liberties in the past, but they said nothing about it. Public feeling runs high, and it will be an unhealthy climate for "Gravy" if he ventures back.

NOTES OF THE LATE STORM

Some of the Damage That Occurred in the County.

The wind Thursday night blew the roof of the Independent oil tanks on West Main street. The building was a one-story brick, recently built.

The sheds of the Standard Oil company on West Main street were blown down and turned completely over.

A wind mill on the Blair farm, three miles west of town, was blown down and wrecked, as was also the wind mill on the Todd farm, in the same locality. Much damage was done to sheds and outbuildings.

A wind mill on the Charles McEnery farm, five miles northeast of town, was blown down. A wind mill on the W. A. Lower farm, in the northern part of the county, was razed to the ground, and trees and shrubbery in his yard was badly damaged.

The handsome new house of W. Y. Cline, one mile east of the city limits, felt the force of the wind, and a large plate glass was demolished. The Cartwright school house, twelve miles northeast of Sedalia, a brick building, had the roof raised, but it settled back in an irregular shape.

Joe Cartwright, an extensive farmer in the same neighborhood, suffered from the loss of sheds and outbuildings, while Jim Hay, north of Post, had a tenant house blown down and wrecked.

On the farm of Mr. Thomas, a gardener, southeast of the city, a barn was blown down.

CAR BLOWN MANY MILES

Strange Story Related By a Former Sedalia Brakeman in Letter.

George McClure, the veteran Missouri Pacific engineer, Saturday received a letter, dated Thursday, January 28, from his son, W. D. McClure, a brakeman for the Rock Island railway out of Savra, Okla., details of which are as follows:

"At 10:25 a. m. today an empty stock car of the Rock Island railroad, standing on a sidetrack, was blown from Erick, Okla., to Savra, a station fourteen miles west, in twenty-five minutes, arriving at Savra at 10:50 a. m.

"The traveling time of the empty car exceeded the fastest running time of the Rock Island passenger trains by eight minutes, and that, too, when it was necessary in going that route to climb two hills."

Mr. McClure, in his missive to his father, concludes by saying, "Beat this if you can."

MONDAY AT 2 O'CLOCK

DON'T FAIL TO MEET THE EXPERT BAKER AT THE OPENING CLASS.

Free Baking School at the Flower-Barnett D. G. Co.—Every Lady in Sedalia and Vicinity Invited.

The free baking school at the Flower-Barnett D. G. Co.'s big store promises to be the best ever witnessed in Sedalia. Prof. Sears will illustrate his talks with practical baking tests. He shows in an easy, simple manner how to have perfect results with the least time, material and labor expended.

The recipes used are by Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, of the Boston Cooking school. Every recipe is practical and so thoroughly tested that they are known to be absolutely correct.

Classes from 2 to 5 p. m., beginning Monday, Feb. 1, and continuing through the week. Monday, the articles prepared will be: K. C. White Cake, K. C. Gold Cake, K. C. Tea Biscuits, K. C. Sponge Muffins and K. C. Sultana Muffins—all made with the old reliable K. C. Baking Powder.

Each day there will be a change in the dainties prepared and every class will be of especial interest.

The room is large and plenty of chairs will be placed for the comfort of everyone.

Don't fail to attend the opening class at 2 p. m. Monday.

Don't neglect having the representatives of K. C. Baking Powder, who call to see you, show the McKenzie Hill Cook Book. You have never seen its like. It will interest and please you.

THE CANVASBACK DRAMA

TO BE PRODUCED ONLY UNDER MORAL AND SANITARY CONDITIONS.

THIS IS THE EDICT IN NEW YORK CITY

A Big Auction of Liens on Property on Which Taxes Are Not Paid Will Be Held in the Metropolitan Tomorrow.

By Glenn Guernsey.

Cable to the Democrat-Sentinel.

New York, Jan. 30.—Canvasback drama will hereafter be produced only under the most moral and sanitary conditions, if the rules imposed by the alleged trust controlling the moving picture business are put into effect. These new regulations were adopted at a recent meeting of the film manufacturers and retail agencies, held in this city, and will become effective on Monday.

Pictures of crimes and immoral and indecent scenes are now under taboo of the ten manufacturers and importers who supply America with its moving pictures. The small fry among the moving picture theaters, whose places of amusement consist of unsafe and ill-ventilated storerooms, are to be driven out of business by a 50 per cent raise in the renting price of films.

The film exchanges, which act as middlemen between manufacturers and theaters, are to be given a chance to reform the business, but if they fail it is alleged that the manufacturers threaten to deal directly with the showmen. A license fee of $2 a week will be charged against all exhibitors. It is also provided that after Monday no theater will be provided with films unless it uses a regularly licensed picture projecting machine. It is stated that this rule was adopted to prevent accidents likely to follow the use of cheap and unreliable machines.

No Vaudeville Stunts. Another ruling that has caused much discussion, and which may be abandoned owing to the opposition of the theaters affected, demands the elimination of all vaudeville stunts with the exception of illustrated songs.

It is admitted by the film makers and distributors that the new regulations were adopted as a defensive measure against the crusade that is now being waged against canvasback drama on account of immorality and lack of physical safety. The reforms are similar to those enforced by the Chicago authorities in regulating the moving picture business in that city.

In order that the film manufacturer may be forced to live up to their resolve to eliminate all immoral pictures, a $5,000 fine is to be assessed against any firm violating this rule. A censorship has been established by the makers themselves, and in case of doubt as to the moral standing of any picture, it will be referred to a committee whose decision will be final. This rule has already served to put the pictures now being shown on a higher moral plane. As a case in point, one manufacturer designed a series of pictures, graphically setting forth the horrible details of the Gunness murders at Lamonte, Ind. The other manufacturers promptly decided that such a picture would serve to bring the business into disrepute, and the threat of imposing a $5,000 fine caused the offending firm to withdraw the film.

Although the articles of agreement between the picture makers have not been made public, the salient features are said to be as follows:

"No pictures of an immoral, indecent, or shocking character or embodying suggestions pernicious to the minds of youth shall be manufactured, the penalty for each violation being a fine of $5,000.

"The establishment of large, commodious and safe theaters shall be encouraged, while the multiplication of the small mushroom type of amusement places shall be strongly discouraged.

"Theaters shall be required to furnish expert operators and to obey the health, fire and police regulations.

"Moving picture theaters shall be required to eliminate vaudeville acts

Bee Hive Bargain Store

Fourth and Ohio Streets, Sedalia, Mo.

A Few Words From The Bee Hive

Help us close out our winter stock. We must make room for our new stock, which is now in the store. It will be to your advantage to co-operate with us in this work.

By advertising we can describe the merchandise and give you our prices (which is a great help to both of us), but in this manner we can not put the goods before you. You will have to come to this store of Bargains to realize and see for yourself.

Whatever is advertised by this house can be put down as absolutely correct, for you are privileged to return any article if it is not as advertised.

No juggling of prices goes with us. If we say $40 suit for $20, it is a $40 suit, and not an $18, as is customary in a lot of advertising. Such is with all our merchandise.

OUR GREATEST ADVERTISEMENT is in Pleasing You. Why should we spend thousands of dollars a year in all kinds of advertising when we can give it to you in values. We know if you are pleased you will tell your friends, and that is what we want.

Watch our ad in the DAILY AND SUNDAY DEMOCRAT-SENTINEL, then come into our store and look at the goods, whether you buy or not. Our courteous force of salespeople are at your service. Check any of your parcels free of charge. Come in and rest.

with the exception of the illustrated song.

"Exchanges shall be required to raise the minimum film rental to a figure that will keep the irresponsible small fry of showmen out of the business."

The Alleged Trust.

The alleged moving picture trust is known as the Moving Picture Patent company, and was incorporated in New Jersey six months ago. Ten concerns, seven American and three European, are said to control absolutely the moving picture films used in this country. Neither machines nor films are to be sold outright, under the new rules, but only leased, and the old machines and damaged films have to be turned back to the trust.

The firms interested in the movement to reform the picture business are the Edison, Kalem, Melies, Vitagraph and American Biograph companies, of New York; George Kleine, of New York and Chicago; Essanay and Selig Polyscope companies, of Chicago; S. Lubin, of Philadelphia, and Pathe Freres, of Paris and New York. In addition to Pathe Freres, the French manufacturers sending films to this country are the Charles Urban company and the L. Gaumont company. Both of the latter are represented in this country by George Kleine.

New Tax Law.

Under the new law governing the city's right to collect unpaid taxes, a big auction of liens on property on which the taxes are unpaid will be held on Monday. The liens will be disposed of to the highest bidder and the buyers can proceed against owners should they fail to redeem their property within three years after the sale. The liens will be sold for the best offers, none, however, to go beyond 12 per cent. Purchasers will become absolute owners on foreclosure of the lien should those interested fail to pay up.

The changes will doubtless be viewed by many owners with trepidation, but they are really more equitable to owners and the city alike than the tenets of the old law.

First, they will enable the city to get its money; secondly, they create, instead of a mere lease, a tax lien which is a gilt-edge investment and will attract buyers, and finally, they protect delinquent owners in their purchases are compelled to go to the courts to foreclose the lien they have purchased.

Trinity Reform.

At last the Trinity church corporation has bowed to the storm of public disapproval which has been vented upon it for many years past and has promised to reform. The abandonment of historic St. John's chapel, because it was no longer profitable, will take place Monday, but it has been decided to reopen the chapel on May 1 for evangelical services. The parochial work of St. John's, however, will be transferred to St. Luke's and after the storm has subsided it is more than likely that the original plan for its abandonment will be carried out. Richard Watson Gilder's poetic protest to the "Guardians of a holy trust, who, in your rotting tenements, housed the people, till the offense rose to the Heaven of the Just," has not gone entirely unheeded, and Trinity now promises to take immediate steps to render sanitary and healthful the reeking tenements from which it has so long received the wages of sin and misery, disease and death.

Of all the corporations of the land, Trinity church is the most irresponsible. It answers to nobody, and the suspicion that its immense trust is administered for personal profit has more than once found utterance without denial. If the long silence is at last to be broken and the corporation managed in such a manner as to be no longer a stench in the nostrils of decent men, it will be the result of the constant agitation which has been carried on in newspapers and magazines for years.

The Estimates Vary Largely.

Trinity's wealth is variously estimated at from $40,000,000 to $100,000,000. A considerable portion of this vast estate consists of tenement buildings which are notoriously the worst and most unsanitary in the city. After a long period of contemptuous disregard of all accusations, followed by indignant denials, Trinity at last admits that its properties are not all that they should be and humbly promises immediate reform.

It is a striking commentary on the brand of Christianity practiced by Trinity that this reform should have had to come from without, brought about by the indignant criticisms of secular newspapers and periodicals, by the men and women who seek to practice on six days of the week what Trinity preaches on Sunday.

WAS WILKES BOOTH KILLED?

To Settle Question, Object of Lincoln Amnesty Bill.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Speaker Cannon has received a letter from Memphis, Tenn., conveying a bill by which it is proposed to grant amnesty and a general parole to any person who aided or abetted the assassination of President Lincoln.

The occasion suggested is the 100th anniversary of the birth of the martyred president, and the reason offered is that it would serve to bring out the true facts concerning the assassination and the story that John Wilkes Booth was captured and killed at the Garrett house in Virginia.

WIRELESS SAVES AGAIN

News of an Accident at Sea Flashed to New York.

New York, Jan. 30.—The Scotland lightship known to every mariner who makes this port, anchored off the highlands of Navesink, and marking the entrance to New York harbor, was run into and damaged by a schooner in a heavy snowstorm today.

The lightship called for immediate assistance, and in response the revenue cutter Mohawk, which way lying at anchor off Tompkinsville, Staten Island, rushed down the bay under full head of steam.

Information of the collision was sent to the office of the United Wireless Telegraph company in this city by the wireless operator on board the Clyde line steamer, Arapahoe, which was coming into port from Jacksonville. Captain Cester, of the Arapahoe, sighted the lightship in the storm, and seeing the signals of distress, went alongside. He was informed that a schooner had fouled the bow of the lightship, but the extent of the damage was not known.

Soon after the collision the snowfall ceased and the observers on shore discovered two large schooners anchored near the lightship. One of these was believed to be the Perry Setzer, bound from Philadelphia to Boston, but whether either of them fouled the light vessel could not be ascertained.

Soon afterward the tug Reliance came up the lower bay towing the water-logged schooner J. S. Lamprey.

CHICAGO STORM BOUND

Windy City Was in the Clutches of the Blizzard Several Days.

Hearst News Service. Chicago, Jan. 30.—Four dead, many injured and much suffering, and an unknown property loss, is the toll paid by Chicago to the storm that swooped down upon this city Friday noon, as part of the present far-reaching disturbance.

Early today the snow ceased falling. The interrupted surface and elevated transportation has been resumed and wire service north, west and south, that was badly crippled last night, is being rapidly restored.

The train on the South Minnesota division of the C. M. & St. P. rail road, which was in snow drifts some time Thursday night, is still unladen.

CLAIMS HE WAS HELD UP

President Accuses Salesman of Forcing Him to Write Check.

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 30.—Fleetwood Lester, traveling salesman for the Southern Supply company, and his wife, are in jail, charged with holding up Hardaway Young, president of the company, at the point of a revolver at the former's home last afternoon and robbing him of $5,600.25.

It is charged that Lester telephoned to Young to come to his home to discuss the sale of Lester's stock in the company. When Young entered the Lester home, it is alleged, Lester forced him at the point of a revolver to write an order to his cashier directing him to pay Mrs. Lester $5,600.25, the alleged amount of Lester stock.

Mrs. Lester took the order to the cashier, who wrote out a check for the amount and identified her at the bank. Mrs. Lester cashed the check and then returned to her home, where Young was held practically a prisoner, and gave the money to her husband.

Two hours after his release, Young swore out warrants against Mr. and Mrs. Lester, charging them with robbery, and they were arrested. They declined to make any statement.

NOW JUDAS ISCARIOT CLUB

Resents President Roosevelt's Attack on Tom Paine.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Dr. John E. Roberts, of the Church of This World, Kansas City, bitterly attacked President Roosevelt under the name "The Author of a Book About Governor Morris," in an address celebrating the birthday of Thomas Paine at Hull House last night, under the auspices of the American Secular Union and Free Thought Federation.

"The author of the life of Gouverneur Morris has pointed out Thomas Paine as that 'little filthy infidel,' which is a three-fold slanderous lie," said Dr. Roberts. "The man who said that is entitled to wear the chief robe of the 'Ananias club,' which he established. Inasmuch as he has slandered a man who was an associate of Washington and Jefferson, and who fought in the revolution for liberty, there should be formed another club known as the 'Judas Iscariot club' and the author of this book would be entitled to membership."

BIGGEST DAMAGE VERDICT

Man in Illinois Got $20,000 From a Jury Saturday.

Hearst News Service. Joliet, Ill., Jan. 30.—In the circuit court here this afternoon a jury awarded John Tjian, plaintiff in a personal injury action brought against the Illinois Steel company, $20,000 damages.

The verdict is the largest in the history of the country. Tjian had practically every bone in his body broken in an accident at the local plant of the company.

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

WHAT REPORT OF THE CAR EFFICIENCY ASSOCIATION SHOWS PUBLIC.

COACH CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

The semi-monthly report of the car efficiency committee of the American Railway association shows an improvement in the idle car situation. There are a total of 21,355 fewer idle cars than there were in the previous two weeks.

Owing to the mild weather the decrease in idle coal cars was only 1,099. It is also reported that there has been a decrease in the bad order cars of 3,000, and that the bad order car situation is now normal on many of the larger railway systems.

His Body on the Tracks.

The body of Louis Massine, a Belgian, 45 years old, was found on the Missouri Pacific railway tracks at the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul crossing, one and one-fourth miles north of Sheffield, by a yardman last night.

He lived near the Missouri Pacific elevator in the East bottoms. It is not known when he was killed. The body was brought to Kansas City on a switch engine by Dr. Harry Czarinski, a deputy coroner, and taken to Carroll-Davidson's undertaking rooms.

For a Clerk's Injuries, $15,000.

A verdict for $15,000 damages in favor of Clarence E. Enos and against the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway company was returned by a jury in Judge Park's division of the circuit court in Kansas City Friday afternoon.

Enos formerly was a checking clerk in the company's freight house in the West bottoms. He said his nervous system was wrecked when a packed survey fell on him in August, 1907.

Former Sedalian's Fine.

Among traffic men there is much curiosity concerning Fred A. Wann, a former Sedalia, but now general traffic manager of the Salt Lake route in connection with the Alton rebase case.

He was fined $10,000 and a rehearing was denied by the United States supreme court. The fine will therefore have to be paid, but whether it will be paid by Mr. Wann or the Alton is not known.

Against the Katy for $1,102.

At Nevada, Mo., Friday, the jury in the personal injury suit of David Baker vs. the M. K. & T. railroad company returned a verdict finding for the plaintiff damages of $1,102.

The suit was to recover $2,000 for injuries received by Mr. Baker in a runaway caused by a velocipede car on the M. K. & T. tracks. His arm was badly broken and he was in other ways injured.

SALOON THOUGHT NO. 64.

Geo. W. Carroll, one of the best and well known men in the state of Texas, recently said in a speech in Dallas, Texas, where he was invited to speak:

"Business men are coming to realize that there are two wealth producers—one is the hand, the other is the head.

All wealth is created by work. For a state or city to be prosperous, two things it MUST have—men and women with steady hands and clear brains at work. These are the only wealth producers. Saloons make no money, they only gather it in from those that make it. The saloon is the greatest curse to the wealth or prosperity of any state or city that can exist, and shrewd business men are fast waking up to this fact. They know that it unnerves the hand and brain of everyone under its influence."

It is NOT because men believe the saloon to be a producer of prosperity, but it is because they lack backbone to antagonize the trade.

THE DRYS.

M. K. & T. northbound flyer No. 6, due here at 12:25 a. m., arrived at 2:12 o'clock Saturday morning. The inclement weather necessitated the train running as a "double header," engines Nos. 337 and 288 doing the work.

C. I. Evans, of Parsons, Kan., traveling engineer for the Katy, went to New Franklin Saturday on business.

E. M. Alvord, general superintendent of the Katy, in special car No. 49, went to Paola, Kan., on High line train No. 515 Saturday.

The body of Miss Edith Ridenour, an M. K. & T. waitress from Denison, Texas, who died at the company hospital here Thursday afternoon, accompanied by deceased's brother, E. K. Ridenour, was shipped to Mt. Vernon, Ind., Saturday morning for interment.

Article in Democrat-Sentinel Was Not Meant for Men From Oklahoma.

W. B. Mowrey, secretary of the Merchants' Mercantile company, of Oklahoma City, Ok., and L. M. Hines, a representative of the company, who are in Sedalia with a view of publishing a "Credit Rating Guide," for use among the merchants of the city, called at the office of C. C. Lawson, secretary of the Retail Merchants' association, Saturday to ascertain the origin of the letter of warning received by Mr. Lawson Thursday from St. Joseph, wherein Sedalia merchants were cautioned to be on the lookout for a band of swindlers, who were working Sedalia with a similar scheme.

Messrs. Mowrey and Hines are not the men in question referred to in the letter, sent from St. Joseph. They are guests at the Huckins hotel and carry with them abundant proof of the genuineness of their system, which they have put in working order in numerous cities throughout the state.

They present letters of recommendations from prominent merchants of Springfield, Joplin and other cities in Missouri, and are not in any way allied with the "graffers," about whom Secretary Lawson was cautioned.

Messrs. Mowrey and Hines will be in Sedalia for several days in the interest of their business.

HIS DAMAGE HEAVY

H. H. Taylor, Living Five Miles From Sedalia Felt Storm's Havoc.

H. H. Taylor, a farmer and stock man, living five miles west of Sedalia on the Sixteenth street road, suffered quite severely from the storm Thursday and possibly incurred a greater damage than any other one individual in the county.

The storm struck Mr. Taylor's neighborhood about 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Three members of his family were milking cows in the barn, when one-half of the roof was blown off.

Mr. Taylor's implement house was wrecked; a portion of his house was shattered; his smokehouse was blown from its foundation a distance of ten feet; a buggy shed was literally torn to pieces; window panes in the house were shattered, and a carriage and a new buggy were badly damaged.

Mr. Taylor's daughter, Miss Alma, had one arm painfully injured during the disturbance, but her injury is not dangerous.

It seems as though Mr. Taylor's farm was the only one in that locality which was included in the storm's path.

BOOTLEGGER KILLS HIMSELF

Former Street Car Conductor Takes Carbolic Acid.

Springfield, Mo., Jan. 30.—James Durnell committed suicide at the home of his parents, Mountain View, sixteen miles east of Willow Springs, yesterday, in a fit of despondency because he had been convicted of bootlegging.

Durnell had been a street car conductor in Kansas City until three weeks ago, when he came to Willow Springs and began bootlegging. He was sentenced to six months in jail and to pay a $300 fine last week for bootlegging. He was released on $700 bond when he appealed the case to the circuit court.

Durnell took carbolic acid in his room at his parents' home. The body was discovered by his mother.

Blue Book of Pettis County and Sedalia Receiving Encouragement.

During the past week unusual encouragement of the History of Pettis County, was received from the very best citizenship of city and county. The encouragement was of a substantial kind—the kind that helps greatly towards the expense of the undertaking.

Plans for the work are advancing rapidly and it can be said without any degree of boasting whatever that the book will be a credit to the community and to every individual who will be represented in it. The endeavor of the publishers is and will continue to be, to print a book that will be a perpetual record of the growth of city and county and the lives of those who have made that growth possible. A Notable Trial, the Robbing of the Toulouse-Paris Express, Begins at Versailles—Story of the Crime.

By Paul Villiers.

Cable to the Democrat-Sentinel.
(Copyright by W. R. Hearst.)

Paris, Jan. 30.—Some months ago I was able to inform you that the officers of the secret police had received orders to trace out the opium dens that we know to exist in Paris. Since then N. Hamard and his subordinates have been closely watching the premises of certain shopkeepers in the fashionable Opera quarter. As a result of these investigations and the report made two commissaries of police, accompanied by a professor from the Paris School of Pharmacy, have just made a sudden descent on a number of discreet little "apartments" or flats hidden away at the back premises occupied by stylish bootmakers and milliners.

All the paraphernalia of opium smoking as practiced in the far east was discovered. The spoils were sealed up and conveyed in several cabs to the Paris Scotland Yard. What makes perhaps more interesting reading still are the numerous letters that have been seized emanating from victims of the noxious drug. Many of them are signed by well known members of society.

Lists quoting the price of opium, with particulars as to how it is retailed here, were also included among the documents found; they show that customers have to pay heavily for their dreamy "pleasure." The patrons are stated to be mostly ladies, who indulge to a terrible extent in the opium habit.

A warning voice is to be raised against the use, so general in the wine growing districts of France, of arsenical preparations as insecticides. The Academy of Medicine some time ago appointed a commission to examine the whole question, and the report of this commission will be read by Dr. Moreu at the next meeting of the Academy of Medicine.

The report is unanimous in demanding on the part of the government the absolute prohibition of the employment of arsenical preparations in agriculture. Properly used and with the observance of every precaution, there is little to be said against the use of such insecticides, but there are infinite possibilities of error and ignorance, to say nothing of their employment for criminal purposes.

The commission are not yet agreed as to what proportion of arsenic may ultimately find its way into the wine produced from vines treated with arsenical insecticides, but, supposing it be only an infinitesimal quantity, its repeated introduction into the human body might set up disorders, the origin of which would not easily be traced by the medical faculty. From the trade point of view, also, the practice is to be deprecated, as would be used by foreign producers as a weapon against French competitors.

A notable trial has opened at Versailles. It is that of the men accused of robbing the Toulouse-Paris express on the night of the 22nd of November, 1907. The train had just left Etampes station when the door of the luggage van opened and two men entered and shot the guard and another employee, afterwards escaping with boxes containing $2,000.

Suspicion fell on three men, one of whom, named Roche, was arrested. He made a confession, but denounced an escaped convict, former employee of the Orleans company, named Albinet, and a man named Charlot, as his accomplices. These three men planned, with a fourth man, named Saffroy, the attack on the train.

At the last moment Saffroy declined to take part in the affair, but was arrested all the same. Albinet, the principal accused, declares that his real name is Dery, and that he is the victim of a double. But unfortunately for him there are serious charges against him. He was identified by a magistrate who inquired into a similar attack which he is alleged to have made on a train in 1877. Finally there was found in his possession at the time of his arrest $300 in money and several newspapers in which his portrait was published.

In spite of the compelling evidence against him, Albinet, who has four times escaped from a penal establishment, denies his innocence. He replied to the name of Albinet, and when asked to give the date and place of his birth, declared that superior interests prevented him from answering the question.

The president of the court related the story of his exploits in France, Spain and America, but the accused replied that the narrative did not interest him, since he was neither Albinet, nor the author of the train robbery.

The man Charlot also denied taking part in the outrage. A note of hilarity was given to the proceedings by the conduct of the accused, Roche, who pretended to be insane.

"Why have you deprived me of my rank of chief of the Indians?" he demanded of the president. Roche declared amid laughter that he had been sent to prison for eight years for stealing an orange, that he had never had any parents, that at 12 years of age he had been cut to pieces and reconstituted, and that he had built a railway and established the Bank of France.

M. Victor Reymonenz, the working foreman of the Toulon arsenal, who was elected a senator in company with M. Clemenceau, has delivered an interesting address of thanks to the electors.

He points out that he learned many things in the village school, but that in the school of life and in the workshop, where the plow and the hammer replaced pen and books, he learned how to suffer.

"Ah, it is very hard, this school," he

HORROR OF EARTHQUAKE

PARTLY OFFSET BY GRAND LABORS OF KING AND QUEEN OF SUNNY ITALY.

WAS THE ONE BRIGHT GLEAM AT MESSINA

Death of Father John, of Kronstadt, Removed One of the Most Picturesque Figures of Present Day and Age.

By Lady Henry Somerset.

Cable to the Democrat-Sentinel.
(Copyright by W. R. Hearst.)

London, Jan. 30.—In these days when the rise of socialistic feeling and the claims for wider liberty are shaking the foundations of the thrones of Europe, no king or queen have endeared themselves or appealed to the noblest sentiments of their people so strongly as the king and queen of Italy. The description of their return to Rome after their labors at Messina reads more like an account of some mediaeval meeting between a king and his subjects after some great victory than a modern record of recent events. With quick sympathy which characterizes the Italian people, they greeted their majesties with tears of gratitude in their eyes, and showered blessings upon them as they moved through the streets.

The queen's courage and devotion will remain in the minds of many as the one bright gleam amidst the horrors of the earthquake at Messina, her quiet attending of the injured, the courage with which she met the sights and sounds which must have sickened stouter hearts, proved the qualities of the hardy mountain race from which she sprang, and the benefits of the simple, strenuous life to which she was educated.

A story was told in order to show that her courage and presence of mind were innate of a picnic two years ago, on a shooting trip, on which she accompanied the king. The weather was cold, and the party sat around a great bonfire, when the Marquis of Calabrin, one of the Equeuries, for a foolish joke, jumped over the fire. His clothes immediately ignited and a panic set in amongst the guests, but the queen threw herself upon him, tore away the burning parts of his clothing, covered him with her thick woolen skirt and managed by her presence of mind to avert a most terrible accident.

Another charming story is told of the queen, which occurred lately, an incident which has probably proved to her the vast difference that there is between the actualities of royal life and the fairy stories in which royal personalities and their deeds are pictured to us in our youth. Once in the suburbs of Rome the queen met a very poorly dressed girl knitting stockings. She asked whether she would knit her a pair and questioned the girl as to whether she knew who she was.

"Oh, yes," replied the girl, "I know you are Queen Helena." The stockings were to be sent to the palace, and in due time they came. In order to pay for her work, the queen returned a pair of silk stockings to the girl, one filled with sweets and the other with money. A few days later the girl wrote the following letter:

"Your majesty, your gift has caused me many tears. My father has taken the money my elder brother has eaten the sweets, and as for the stockings, my mother put them on herself."

But this heroic woman is not only kindly, she is clever. She has published a book of verses entitled "The Crown of Thorns," which reveals to us something of the sadness and sorrows which are hidden in the shadows behind the glamor and glitter of court life. The poems speak of the women who sit on the steps of a throne, her eyes filled with tears, her lips quivering with grief. None present see her except the king who sits upon the throne, and her name is Care, and beneath the crown of gold worn by the king himself there is another crown, the crown of thorns.

The mighty wall which rose from the earthquake-stricken region was echoed in the heart of London, where the solemn requiem mass for the souls of those who perished was celebrated in the great Byzantine cathedral of Westminster. It was fitting that they should be thus remembered; they are held in the hand of God, but the living still cry to us, and it is their cry which has been the most heartbreaking that the world has heard for many a hundred years. That was the horror of Messina, the stifled cries that came from beneath the heaps of ruins, the call for help, so dim, so distant that it could scarcely be heard, and yet it fell upon the ears of those who were working their lives away at the rescue, as, exhausted, they toiled unceasingly often for fourteen and fifteen hours without food.

The death of Father John, of Kronstadt, removes from our midst one of the most picturesque figures of our time. The devotion of the Russian people to this simple priest has for many years been a genuine tribute to his goodness. At first unknown save by the poor, his austere life and his many charities won for him a celebrity which soon reached the ears of the rich. The name of Father John is as well known in Russia as that of Count Leo Tolstoy, and yet never were two men more antagonistic. Some years ago when Father John and Tolstoy were together offered the honorary membership of the Russian University, the priest declined it on the ground that he could not be placed on a level with a Godless man.

For years the sick had been brought to his door and many pilgrimages were made to Kronstadt, and it has been said on good authority that as he laid hands on the sick they recovered. But this fame brought no happiness to the heart of Father John, for he disliked notoriety, and was undoubtedly a humble and devoted Christian. Unfortunately, toward the latter end of his life, Pobedenostoff won him as an ally of the reactionary party, but his influence in politics was baneful both to himself and to his country. His influence over the

TOMMY BURNS WALKED OFF IN ENGLAND WITH ALL OF LOOSE COIN.

HENCE THEY OFFER "SLIM PURSES" NOW

National Sporting Club of London is Ready to Give $4,000 for Match Between Jack Johnson and Sam Langford.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

New York, Jan. 30.—When Tommy Burns had completed his triumphal career in England and sailed for Australia, he took with him practically all of the loose coin that had previously adhered to the pockets of British sporting men. That the latter have not recovered from the financial onslaught of the foxy Tommy is evidenced by the stinginess of the purse offered by the National Sporting club of London for the bout between Jack Johnson and Sam Langford for the world's heavy-weight championship. The winner will get only the equivalent of 4,000 American dollars, while the loser will get as a salute for his injured feelings only the insignificant sum of $2,000. Each man will get $750 for training and traveling expenses. The National Sporting club certainly isn't going to go broke on this bill.

Could Get $15,000.
When it is considered that the black champion could probably get at least $15,000 for fighting a much easier mark than Langford in California, it would seem that his manager is lacking in financial acumen to take up with any such proposition as is offered by the London club. However, Fitzpatrick isn't such a fool as he looks. The National Sporting club financed Johnson for his long trip to Australia to meet Burns, with the understanding that the big black would return to England for his first subsequent battle. These terms were accepted by Fitzpatrick, and he is a man of his word.

So far as Langford is concerned, he has no choice in the matter. He has been unable to get a fight in this country, and it was up to him to go abroad or to take up hodge-podge or some similar profession as a means of livelihood. Although the purse hung up for the fight is by no means extravagant, and is one of the smallest ever offered for a heavyweight championship encounter, the winner of the coming battle of the blacks is likely to come home with a big wad of real British money in his jeans. There is no such prejudice against brunette fighters in England as exists in this country, and the victor will find it an easy matter to get long and profitable engagements in the London music halls.

When Nelson Quit.
"The Life of Oscar Matthew Battling Nelson," an autobiography of the great fighter who now says he is going to accompany President Roosevelt on his African hunting trip, is appearing as a serial and is attracting much attention among local sports. With becoming modesty our hero sets forth the veracious chronicle of his frequent encounters in the ring, but there is one chapter missing. The Battler fails to tell how he didn't fight the "Cherokee Kid" out in Las Vegas, Nevada, and the yarn, as vouched for by a Las Vegas man, makes interesting literature.

It is said that Nelson dropped into the sagebrush town for an outing. Immediately he became the hero of the desert city, greatly to the chagrin of one "Cherokee Kid," who had heretofore held the limelight as the town's only and leading pugilist. "Cherokee's" wrath soon reached the bubbling-over point, and he issued forth with a challenge to Nelson to do battle. The challenge was accepted by the doughty prize-fighter and incipient author and lion-slayer, and the preparations for the bout went on apace.

A few days before the date set for the battle, however, there was a rival attraction in the way of a political convention. There was a hot contest on, and the rival factions waxed fierce and some exuberant and bloodthirsty.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA OF ENGLAND
Who Is Reported Seriously Ill.

Couple of Shooting Scrapes.
Two shooting scrapes the night before the convention made business for the doctors and the undertaker. That aroused Sheriff Romero, who prepared to preserve law and order at any price.

Nelson attended the convention in company with the doctors. Just before the meeting was to be called to order the sheriff mounted the platform and called for silence. There was silence at once, as everybody knew the sheriff and respected his deadly aim. He was not much of a speaker, but he was direct. "Two minutes to shed your irons," he said. "I mean business and there's goin' to be no more of this lead tossin' unless I toss it myself. Every feller walk up here and put down his gun."

In each hand the sheriff held material evidence of his determination. Slowly the warring delegates passed along, each depositing his artillery. Just ninety guns were put on the platform out of the 120 delegates present. "Thanks, gent's," the sheriff said. "Very glad I'll not have to fill this here operry house full of pistol smoke." Thereupon he gathered the ninety weapons in a horse blanket and had Nelson help him carry them over to his office. The convention proceeded with nothing more serious than a few fist fracasces. "The boys will be after their guns tonight," he said to Nelson, "and I'll jes' natchally have to give 'em back."

Nelson's Eyes Stuck Out.
Nelson, whose eyes stuck out like a bung on a beer keg, evidently had been doing some thinking. "Will they carry those things when they come to the fight next week?" he asked. "Sure thing," the sheriff answered, as he wrenched off a piece of black plug. "Won't be able to control them then, either. Likely to be more fight than the one in the 'ing." But murmured something about feeling funny about the head and said he guessed he go up to his quarters for a bit of rest.

That was the last seen of Battling Nelson there. How he got out of Las Vegas nobody knows. His trunk still is at the Castenda hotel and his training apparatus is stowed away in the Flying Sand barn. He left no bills, these being paid in advance. But how he got out without being seen is a mystery.

Not long after the "Cherokee Kid" got into an altercation with a 105-pounder with one lung—a "lunger"—the unfortunate was unfeelingly called. The little man minus a lung whipped the "Kid" so thoroughly that the pugilistic aspirations of Las Vegas departed with the departure of the humiliated "Kid."

Good Advertising The Multiplication of Brains

Our astounding success has come through our clients' successes, due to the methods which we advocate here.

There are scores of successes to which we can cite you as evidence of what we have done.

As a natural result, this has become the greatest advertising agency that ever existed.

If you are leaving some profit-field untilled; if you are making a failure, or a semi-success, out of a great possibility; or if others win more than you, these are facts that you should know.

The Old Way

For years we did advertising in the Old Way, so we know how to make these comparisons.

We used to depend, as other agents do now, on one man's ability. He did the best that he knew.

But there are many pitfalls in advertising, and one man knew but few. There is need for vast knowledge of human nature, and one man knows but little. Success requires immense exertion, and one man has but one-man power.

Much of the advertising, in the Old Way, failed to return its cost.

The New Way

Under the New Way, we bring many minds to bear on each problem. Each is a man of vast experience and of proved ability. Each is the veteran of many successful campaigns.

These men, in conference, devise plans and means and copy. They solve all selling problems—do all that must be done.

Each contributes ideas; each guards against mistakes. When these men agree, the campaign that results is usually irresistible.

Under the New Way, we multiply the power of each dollar. We get out of advertising all the dormant possibilities. In this way we have doubled our business again and again during the past few years.

The Many-Man Power

Our two Advisory Boards, in New York and Chicago, consist of twenty-eight high-priced men. It costs us about $1 a minute to keep one of the boards in session.

There is no corps of men in all America so competent to deal with the problems of advertising.

We invite you to meet them. Submit your problems to them; ask their advice. Judge for yourself what such men may mean to you.

We Pay One Ad-Writer $1,000 Per Week

We pay to ad-writers the highest salaries ever paid. Thus we attract from everywhere the ablest men who develop.

The head of this department receives $1,000 per week. He divides his time between New York and Chicago.

In the course of years we have gathered here the ablest copy staff in existence. And here, in this vortex of advertising, they multiply their powers. They combine their ideas, and each man's success sets a pace for all others.

All are judged by results, and rivalry brings out each man's utmost endeavor.

We choose these men because they have proved exceptional ability. But, in this environment, every day increases that ability.

This incomparable service costs you no more than the commonplace. We handle advertising on the usual agent's commission.

To multiply results means to expand the advertising, and our revenue comes through expansion.

We spend on Advisory Boards and on copy what others spend on soliciting. For it is cheaper for us to develop accounts than to get them. We need to charge nothing extra.

We employ in our offices more than 200 people.

We issue a book which tells what the New Way has done. Every man who spends a dollar in advertising owes to himself its perusal. The book itself is a brilliant example of our advertising powers. Please send this coupon for it.

A Reminder

To send to Lord & Thomas, New York or Chicago, for their book, "The New Way in Advertising."

THE FORMER ICE KING

To Be Given Hearing on Application for New Trial.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.
New York, Jan. 30.—Charles W. Morse, the former ice king, who was convicted of violation of federal banking laws while an officer of the National Bank of North America and sentenced to fifteen years in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., will be given a hearing Monday on his application for a new trial.

Morse's attorneys have drawn up a very exhaustive bill of exceptions, in which they have set forth every possible reason why their client should be granted a new trial.

They are confident that the application will be granted and that Morse will finally escape from his entanglement with the law without the ignominy of donning a striped suit.

SENT $100 IN A LETTER

SPRINGFIELD MERCHANT GETS QUITE A BUNCH OF CONSCIENCE MONEY.

ONCE TOOK TOO MUCH FROM THE STORE

Recipient Can Advance No Reason for St. Louisian's Act Unless It Is That of Some Penitent Shoplifter.

Springfield, Mo., Jan. 30.—When Moses Levy, proprietor of the Model dry goods store, opened his mail yesterday he noticed a letter addressed in very poor handwriting. Upon opening the letter he saw the ends of banknotes extending out of the paper.

Unfolding the paper, he found $100 in currency of the following denominations: One $50 bill, two $20 bills and one $10 bill. The money was enclosed in three sheets of ordinary writing paper. On one of the sheets of paper was a brief note which read:

"Conchents money. Once I take from you too much."

No name was signed to the note. Nor was the letter registered, as the writer could have been detected had Mr. Levy chosen to ascertain the identity of the conscience-stricken person. The handwriting was vertical and appeared to be the work of some small child, prompted, of course, by some older person. The address on the letter read: "Moses Levy, Model Dry Goods Store."

Mr. Levy said he had no idea who the sender of the money could be, but thinks some person who has been guilty of shoplifting in his store has become penitent and wanted to relieve his mind of burdensome guilt.

"This is the first conscience money I have ever received," remarked Mr. Levy, "and I suppose there are few business men in Springfield who have ever received this amount of money, accompanied by such an explanation."

Mr. Levy can not recall any injury done him by any person, and believes that the writer, in "taking too much" probably took more goods than he was entitled to at some bargain sale.

Price Furniture Co. Leases Store Room Next Door to Present Store.

The Price Furniture Co. has entered into a five-year lease for the room they occupy and also for the one adjoining, which is the one recently occupied by the Red Cross pharmacy. When the alterations are made which will practically throw these two rooms into one, this will make one of the "swellest" stores in the city.

The business of the Price Furniture Co. has steadily increased ever since they opened their doors to the public, and in 1908 they more than doubled their business over that of the previous year, and it became absolutely necessary for this increase of room to accommodate the demands of their business.

Mr. Price takes this opportunity to thank his friends and the public in general for their patronage, and hopes for a continuance and increase of same. He says the policy of this store will always be to extend courteous treatment to all and to carry the highest grade goods the market affords, and that any experience he has gained in a lifetime devoted to the manufacture and sale of furniture will be used to further this end.

Meat Smoked In a Minute

The modern method of smoking meat, by use of our liquid smoke accomplishes everything that the old method can and has advantages that the old method has not.

It saves TIME, SAVES LOSS, SAVES MONEY. The meat is preserved better; it is protected against mold and insects; it is not shrunk in weight.

Call at the store for a free sample bottle, also a copy of the little book telling how to have the finest meats possible.

PURSE OF $200 HUNG UP

FRANK J. MARSHALL AND CHAS. JAFFE ARE TO CONTEST AT CHESS.

WILL BEGIN A TEN GAME MATCH TODAY

Time Limit Agreed Upon Is Thirty Moves in the First Two Hours, and Fifteen Moves an Hour After That Period.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.
New York, Jan. 30.—Frank J. Marshall and Charles Jaffe, two of the foremost chess experts of America, will begin a ten-game match at the rooms of the Rice Chess club tomorrow.

A purse of $200 has been hung up. While the terms of the match provide for ten games, if necessary, it is not likely that this number will be played, since so soon as either player scores a winning majority of points the contest will cease. The time limit agreed upon is thirty moves in the first two hours and fifteen moves an hour thereafter.

The experts undertake to contest five games a week and to play each day eight hours at a stretch, if necessary. The referee selected is Prof. Isaac L. Rice and the umpires, Max Phillips for Marshall, and Louis Helm for Jaffe.

The backers of Marshall announce that they have the sum of $600 ready to put on Marshall for a set match against any player in the United States, Jose R. Capablanca preferred. The latter, however, will not return from his tour until March. Marshall was unable to meet him in the three games that had been arranged between them on account of illness.

A GOOD WOMAN CALLED

The Death of Mrs. Patrick Cashman Near Houstonia.

Mrs. Deborah Cashman, of Houstonia, wife of Patrick Cashman and mother of John Cashman, of the legal department of the Missouri Pacific railway at St. Louis, died from a stroke of paralysis, sustained Thursday, at her home at 6 o'clock Friday evening, aged 79 years.

Several months ago Mrs. Cashman, at the solicitation of her family, was brought to Sedalia to undergo a special treatment for rheumatism. She showed material improvement after several weeks, and was later returned to Houstonia, but Thursday last sustained a stroke of paralysis, from which she died.

Funeral services will be conducted at Sacred Heart church this morning and burial will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

Mrs. Cashman was one of Pettis county's oldest residents. She commanded the esteem and respect of every acquaintance, and every friend will extend sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Cashman leaves the following children: John, of St. Louis; Joseph, of Kansas City; William, near Houstonia; Mrs. Joseph Livers, of Kansas City, and Miss Nellie, at home.

The following will be pall bearers: Patrick Doherty, Mike McGinley, E. G. Cassidy, Edward Donnelly, Charles McEntry and Judge D. E. Kennedy.

The Best Cough Cure

HAVE THIS OVER WITH

MANY FOLKS HERE UNNECESSARILY SUFFERING FROM STOMACH TROUBLE

INDIGESTION LEAVES PROMPTLY

Give Your Stomach a Good Eat Without Fear of Dyspepsia By Taking a Little Diapepsin Which is Harmless and Inexpensive.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch Gas and Eructate sour, undigested food or have a feeling of Dizziness, Heartburn, Fullness, Nausea, Bad taste in mouth and Stomach headache—this is Indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapepsin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure the worst case of Dyspepsia, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from Stomach trouble or Indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve a sour stomach or Indigestion in five minutes. Get a case now and eat one Triangle after your next meal. They are harmless and taste like candy, though each contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a hearty, healthy appetite; but, what will please you most is that you will feel that your Stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Biliowness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapepsin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever have indigestion or Gastritis or any other Stomach misery, and eat just one Triangle of Diapepsin.

Hundreds of young men all over the United States are every week investigating the opportunities to be found in the navy. About 300 of those who apply are accepted. You might be one of them if you looked into the matter. In the navy you can see more of the world, and at the same time have a steady job, with a chance to save more money than most men save working at home. There are many kinds of work in the navy and the life is interesting and full of opportunities. The first year you get the benefit of a training school without extra cost. Your pay begins when you enter the service—board, lodging, medical attendance, if sick, and a $60 uniform outfit, all are free. If you have a trade it means better pay to begin with and quicker promotion.

As a seaman you have a chance to become manly and self-controlled. You will be sent to sea, probably on board one of the big new war vessels. "JACK THE SMEARER"

Again Punished, This Time on the Complaint of a Boy.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 30.—William Gadd, known in Indianapolis police circles as "Jack the Smearer," was before Judge Whallon, of the police court, yesterday, on a charge of smearing filth on a small boy.

He was fined $500 and costs and sentenced to the workhouse for six months. He is the same man who used to enter the crowded foyers of the theaters here while the patrons were leaving and would smear filth on the finest dresses he could find.

He became a terror to the women, whose gowns were spoiled in a humiliating manner.

A GERMAN AERIAL FLEET

REMARKABLE PROGRESS BEING MADE LOOKING TO ITS CONSTRUCTION.

AERONAUTS TO CARRY SIGNAL CODE BOOK

Orders Received to Construct a Number of Wireless Telegraph Stations for Austro-Hungarian Navy.

By Malcolm Clarke.

Cable to the Democrat-Sentinel.

(Copyright by W. R. Hearst.)

Berlin, Jan. 30.—Evidence is afforded daily of Germany's remarkable progress in the construction of an aerial fleet. The firm of Siemens & Shuckert has almost completed the construction of a new large Barseval airship, and the Zeppelin Airship Construction Co., at Friedrichshafen, has begun the new year with a staff of four engineers and ninety workmen. The technical staff and the number of workmen will be largely increased in the spring, when the construction of several new airships of the Zeppelin type will be begun.

The German war office has decided to establish a military aerial station near the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen, and the chiefs of the military ballooning department, Major Gross and Captain von Jena, are going to Friedrichshafen in a few days to supervise the erection of the necessary sheds. The airship Zeppelin 1, (really the third airship constructed by Count Zeppelin) will be the first airship stationed here, and barracks will be built near the airship shed for the accommodation of a detachment of the ballooning corps.

Major von Frankenberg, president of the German Aero club, publishes detailed proposals for the erection of signals by which aeronauts when traveling in midair can ascertain their position.

Major von Frankenberg proposes that huge sign boards shall be placed on the roofs of church towers and high buildings, with a certain code of signals, visible from airships aloft, inscribed upon them. Aeronauts would then carry a signal code book, enabling them to decipher the meaning of the signals seen below them. Major von Frankenberg further proposes that these signals shall be illuminated at night in such a way that they will be visible to aeronauts during the hours of darkness, and that the frontiers of different countries shall be made visible by the same method of signaling. The technical sub-committee of the German Aero club will shortly conduct experiments to test the value of such signals.

German commercial enterprise is manifesting itself in every direction. The German Telefunken Co. has received orders to construct a number of wireless telegraph stations for the Austro-Hungarian navy all along the Austro-Hungarian Adriatic coast. The same company has received orders from the Serbian government to supply ten portable wireless telegraph stations for the Serbian army. Each station mast is eighty feet in height and has a radius of activity of 180 miles.

Servia and Montenegro have combined to establish a wireless telegraph service from Belgrade to Cetinje. This order has also been given to the Telefunken company.

The picture painted by the Bavarian artist, Angelo Jank, on the wall of the reichstag behind the presidential rostrum, which has given rise to such bitter political controversies, was removed the other day and will never reappear in the chamber of the imperial legislature.

As recent visitors to Berlin will remember, the picture represents the scene after the battle of Sedan, and shows the Emperor William I., Bismarck, Moltke and the Crown Prince Frederick riding over the battlefield. The emperor and the crown prince are represented as trampling the French flag under foot. All French visitors to the reichstag regarded the picture as an affront to their nation.

and angry articles appeared in the leading French newspapers at the beginning of the session, when the picture was seen for the first time. With the exception of Chauvinists, Germans, to, regarded the picture as a violation of good taste, and the majority in the imperial legislature demanded its removal, which the president of the chamber has ordered to be carried out.

After the recent political crisis which terminated on Nov. 17, with the emperor's acceptance of the popular demands, and a pledge to preserve greater reserve for the future, it was freely stated that a great national outburst of indignation would follow any attempt on the part of the kaiser to resume his former role. Although the whole country was aware that the kaiser emerged from his retirement on New Year's day, and made another astonishing speech, there are no signs of national indignation. On the contrary, some of the leading conservative newspapers, including Die Post, declare that the emperor in identifying himself with the contents of Count Schillfren's article in the Deutsche Revue, voiced the sentiments of the German people. S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

Any chronic ulcer shows an unhealthy and impure condition of the blood. It is a diseased condition of the flesh at that particular spot, caused and kept inflamed and irritated by a continual discharge into it, of unhealthy matter from the circulation. No treatment can have any curative effect except a medicine which will renovate the blood and entirely remove the cause. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., are sometimes helpful in reducing inflammation, cleansing the ulcer, or perhaps lessening the discharge, but such applications do not reach the blood where the disease germs are located and can never effect a cure. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation, drives out all impurities and morbid matter, and by nourishing the flesh with rich pure blood causes the place to heal naturally and permanently. S. S. S. does not make a surface cure, but by beginning at the bottom, and rebuilding broken-down tissue, and supplying healthful, healing qualities to the blood, causes the place to fill in with new, firm flesh, while it steadily but surely effects a permanent cure. The ulcer can not exist when the blood is pure, and S. S. S. will thoroughly purify the blood. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

LATE HON. JAS. G. BLAINE

TODAY IS THE SEVENTY-NINTH ANNIVERSARY OF BIRTH OF STATESMAN.

HE "PASSED AWAY" SIXTEEN YEARS AGO

Stood a Good Show of Being Elected to the Presidency Had It Not Been for "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion."

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

New York, Jan. 30.—In Washington and throughout the country today the many Blaine clubs still in existence celebrated the 79th anniversary of the birth of the "Plumed Knight," James Gillespie Blaine. Last Wednesday was the sixteenth anniversary of Blaine's death, and while his birthday does not come until tomorrow, the formal observances were held today on account of the anniversary coming on Sunday.

High among the honored names of the history of the republican party stands that of James Gillespie Blaine. "The Plumed Knight" has a sobriquet conferred upon him by Robert G. Ingersoll in nominating him for the presidency. Blaine was born January 31, 1830, at West Brownsville, Pa., and was educated in the common schools and at Washington college, where he graduated in 1847.

After several years spent in teaching, Blaine went to Augusta, Me., and with that state he was thereafter identified. He edited the Kennebec Journal and later the Portland Advertiser.

In 1858 he was elected to the legislature by the republicans, remaining in that body four years, during two of which he served as speaker. His rapid rise to prominence made natural his election, in 1862, to congress, where he served for seven successive terms. During three terms he served as speaker of the house of representatives.

Blaine was among the most aggressive of the party leaders in congress, was a ready debater and an expert in parliamentary laws.

He was a vigorous supporter of the administration during the Civil war. Nevertheless, he opposed the issue of "greenbacks," and successfully urged an "important modification of the Stevens reconstruction plan."

As speaker he attained unusual success. His conduct of the gavel was uniformly marked with great readiness and ability. In this post, however, he provoked acute controversies. The effect was seen when the democrats secured control of the house in 1875.

Blaine's impassioned opposition to the inclusion of Jefferson Davis in a general amnesty, on the ground of the latter's complicity in "the gigantic murders and crimes of Andersonville," at that time was followed by a vigorous effort of the democrats to connect him with the Pacific railroad frauds.

This culminated in the highly dramatic incident of June 5, 1876, when the accused produced in the house the "Mulligan letters," and offered what was considered an ample vindication of his course.

The immediate effect of this incident was the enhancement of Blaine's prestige and his strong and almost successful candidacy for the presidential nomination in 1876, when Hayes was chosen.

Having been elected to the United States senate in 1876, Blaine worked against the Bland silver bill, opposed unrestricted immigration of the Chinese, and favored strongly the protection of various industries. In 1880 Blaine contended with Grant for the presidential nomination, and again a "dark horse," Garfield, was elected.

President Garfield appointed Blaine his secretary of state. This post he resigned in Dec., 1881, soon after the ascension of Arthur.

In 1884 Blaine received the republican presidential nomination on the fourth ballot. After an extraordinary campaign he was defeated by Grover Cleveland. He then resumed his literary work, published his "Twenty Years in Congress" in two volumes, and a volume of "Political Discussions."

Upon Harrison's accession to the presidency, in 1889, Blaine was again placed in charge of the state department and developed the line of policy he had proposed in 1881. He adopted a vigorous course with reference to the seal fisheries, but his especial energies were devoted to plans for establishing close commercial relations with South American countries, and for reciprocity in trade with other foreign countries.

He resigned in June, 1892, in advance of the assembly of the national convention, before which it was expected that both Blaine and Harrison would be candidates. Blaine's name was presented, but without success.

After a protracted illness, he died in Washington, January 27, 1893.

"SHINY" FAT FOLKS

One of the fat woman's chief griefs in life is her shiny, greasy skin. If it be pimply besides, as it probably is (or may be), her up of anguish is full. Powder and cosmetics simply hide these horrors for a season—a very short season. They are not a cure for them. There isn't any cure for them except getting rid of the grease beneath. When she does that she finds her complexion improves.

In this way only can I account for the clear, natural complexion acquired by those who use the Marmola receipt: One-half ounce Marmola, 1/2 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, 3 1/2 ounces Peppermint Water. By causing the excess flesh to be absorbed, it clears the blood of the globules of fat which, physicians say, cause the greasy, oily skin of the over-fat.

This simple receipt makes a mixture both pleasant and harmless. It causes neither wrinkles nor stomach disturbances. It is also quite inexpensive. Make it a point to try some; take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime for a week or two and see if your oily skin does not quickly disappear. As you lose your fat your complexion should progressively improve, and after a month or so, when you have lost 25 or 30 pounds of flesh, it should be nearly perfect.

ACADEMY OF FINE ARTS

THE ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF PENNSYLVANIA OPENED IN PHILADELPHIA.

SOCIETY WAS ORGANIZED 104 YEARS AGO

Among the Awards the Beck Memorial Medal Will Be Given for the First Time at the Present Exhibition.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—With a private view for artists and representatives of the press, the 104th annual exhibition of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts was opened today. The display of paintings and sculpture forms a notable collection of the best work of leading American artists and will doubtless attract attention all over the country. The exhibition will open to the public tomorrow and continue until Sunday, March 14.

Among the awards the Beck Memorial medal will be given for the first time at the present exhibition. This medal will be awarded annually to the best portrait in its annual exhibition painted by an American artist within three years of the time of this exhibition. The medal is endowed by James M. Beck, formerly assistant attorney general of the United States, as a memorial to his sister, Miss Carol H. Beck, who died October 15, 1908.

Miss Beck was a student in the Pennsylvania academy school from 1879 to 1884, afterward studied in Dresden and at the Julian academy in Paris and returned to the Pennsylvania academy schools for post-graduate work in 1899 and 1900, studying under William M. Chase. Her life was devoted to the painting of portraits and her work was well known. She won the Mary Smith prize at the Pennsylvania academy in 1899.

Other awards include the gold medal awarded at the discretion of the board of directors to American painters and sculptors who may be exhibitors or represented in the permanent collection in recognition of high achievement in their profession or who of eminent services in the cause of art or to the academy have merited the distinction.

The Temple trust fund, created by the late Joseph E. Temple, yields $1,800 for the purchase of works at the discretion of the directors and the issue of medals to artists. The competition is open only to American artists and a gold medal will be awarded for the best picture painted in oil without regard to subject.

The Walter Lippincott prize of $300 with an option on the part of the founder to purchase the chosen painting, will be awarded for the sixteenth time. The Mary Smith prize of $100 founded by the late Russell Smith will be awarded for the thirty-first time to the painter of the best painting (not excluding portraits) exhibiting at the academy, painted by a woman artist, resident in Philadelphia.

The Jennie Fesman gold medal, endowed by Miss Elizabeth W. Roberts will be awarded for the seventh time for the best landscape.

There the party will be provided with horses and two or three days will be spent examining the land and adjacent plantations, seeing the wonderful sights on this most favored and fertile district. Here we will see, as others have seen, the greatest chance for investment, or for securing a home at a low price and on long and favorable terms on this American continent, and in a section of the country that is just now being awakened. After returning to our train we will again visit Mexico City, spending the day making side trips as the party pleases, leaving for home via the National lines of Mexico, Friday, the 12th. This schedule can be depended upon only as far as San Antonio and may be varied from one to two days at points beyond.

The rates as quoted below are for round trip tickets. The total car fare from Sedalia to the lands and return is $62.50. To this rate add $22.50 for the round trip Pullman ticket from Kansas City, making a total of $85.00.

Arrangements have been made for first-class meals on our own dining car, which will not exceed fifty cents per meal. Good meals can also be provided en route at the Grier and Mexican eating stations.

Please notify us by phone or call Tuesday, Feb. 2nd at our office if you will join us. This is IMPERATIVE.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so? The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription."

Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.
